White Chicken Chili

Soups | Stovetop & prep

Before you start

Chop onion and jalapeño, finely chop garlic, drain and rinse beans, shred cheese, and prepare serving toppings.

Ingredients

Keep these ingredients separate; follow the order in the directions.

- [ ] 1 tbsp. neutral oil
- [ ] 1 medium yellow onion, chopped
- [ ] 1 jalapeño, seeded, finely chopped
- [ ] 2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
- [ ] 1 tsp. dried oregano
- [ ] 1 tsp. ground cumin

- [ ] 2 Bone in skin on chicken breasts cooked sous vide and shredded
- [ ] 5 c. low-sodium chicken broth (or liquid from the sous vide bag)
- [ ] 2 (4.5-oz.) cans green chiles
- [ ] Kosher salt
- [ ] Freshly ground black pepper
- [ ] 2 (15-oz.) cans white beans, drained, rinsed
- [ ] 8 oz. shredded Monterey Jack
- [ ] 8 oz cream cheese
- [ ] 1 1/2 c. frozen corn
- [ ] 1/2 c. sour cream
- [ ] 1 avocado, thinly sliced, for serving
- [ ] 1/4 c. chopped fresh cilantro, for serving
- [ ] 1/4 c. crushed tortilla chips, for serving

1. Prepare and cook

1. In a large pot over medium heat, heat oil. Add onion and jalapeño and cook, stirring, until softened, about 8 minutes. Add garlic, oregano, and cumin and cook, stirring, until fragrant, about 1 minute. Add cbroth, and chiles; season with salt and pepper. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer, 10 to 12 minutes.

2. Add beans to pot and bring to a simmer. Cook, smashing about one-quarter of beans with a wooden spoon, until slightly thickened, about 10 minutes. Add corn and shredded chicken and cook, stirring, until heated through, about 1 minute more. Remove from heat and stir in sour cream.

3. Ladle chili into bowls. Top with avocado, cilantro, chips, and cheese.

Notes

Source lists 8 oz cream cheese without an addition step. Confirm how it is intended to be incorporated. Chicken is already cooked sous vide and shredded before starting.
